90 DAYS SET FOR FINISHING CENTER ST. JOB

Mayor To Demand Speed in Construction of New Paving

CALLS MEETING

Will Confer with Utilities Officials To Map Out Program for Work

Completion of the East Center st paving within 90 days from the start is going to be the order of Mayor Emery Murphy if present plans materialize

Mayor Murphy has called a meeting of all local public utility officials at his office for Monday night at which time he plans to ask them for cooperation in rushing the East Center paving job

Those invited to the meeting are A [illegible] of the C D & M [illegible] C I C Stang of the same company R C Foster of the Logan Gas Co George Whysall of the Marion Water Co and A J Berry of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co

Seeks Cooperation

It is the mayor's plan to ask these representatives to see that any work they have to do in connection with the improvement is pushed to the fullest extent Several city officials also will be present

"This is too important a street to have closed for a long time" declared Mayor Murphy "To blockade the street would be harmful to the merchants and for that reason we plan to carry out the improvement one side at a time never having the street completely blocked for traffic"

To carry out his plan Mayor Murphy suggested that he would insist that the contractor awarded the paving work day and night until the street is completed

Schedule Outlined

It is expected to let the contract within the next 60 days and work starting on the sewer which will be on the north side of the street by March 10 Mayor Murphy plans to allow 30 days for the sewer work and the paving of the street on to the north side of the street. Actual paving will be started by April 1 and the job completed between July and 15

"It is only fair to warn all on [illegible] who live on the street" said Mayor Murphy "that we expect to set a time limit on the street and we will insist on the contractor completing the street on time"

PROFESSOR EINSTEIN'S new theories puzzle able mathematicians as they well may

He tells you if his deep German is correctly interpreted that gravitation and electricity are the same force

The fourth dimension is time and geometry and electricity are in some way related

* * *

It must all be true, since a great scientist says so at least until a greater scientist comes along and says it is nonsense

But how geometry expressing finite man's ideas of form and measurement can possibly be connected with a cosmic force like electricity is not easily understood by little people

As for the fourth dimension being time this is even more puzzling "Time is only a succession of events" is man's word to express the fact that they are born and after a while die. If that man-made word "time" is the fourth dimension, what is the fifth?

* * *

SPEECHES in congress are unfortunately not read by more than one tenth of the citizens.

Every one should read Mr Reed of Missouri's speech demanding fast cruisers and preparation

Groundhog's Annual Visit Due Saturday

Any groundhog that comes out this kind of weather shouldn't be given the satisfaction of seeing his shadow

This was the more or less widespread opinion of Marion residents who braved the cold atmosphere to get to their customary places of business early this morning

But in spite of these opinions probably prompted by a touch of the epizootic M Groundhog will make his first appearance Saturday At least he is scheduled to do so

If he does see his shadow it's good news for all concerned If he doesn't see it then the fellow who stokes the furnace fire will have a laugh coming

Marion County Tax Total For Year Is $2,309,916, Report of Auditor Shows

Duplicate Figures Include General Revenue Tax and Special Assessments Delinquencies Summarized at $157,604

If Marion county residents and those who own property in the county would pay every cent of taxes and special assessments levied against them the income in 1929 would be $2,309,916 92 This is the amount charged on the tax duplicate for 1928 and is collectible this year

An abstract of the 1928 tax duplicate has been completed in the office of County Auditor Earl D Thomas It shows the valuation of real estate and personal property the amount of taxes levied special assessments against property owners and amount of delinquent tax and what becomes of the tax dollar after it is paid into the county treasurer

Property Valuation

The abstract shows that real estate and personal property in the county is valued at $80,10[illegible],180 Real estate outside the corporation limits of villages and cities is valued at $[illegible] Within the villages and cities real estate is valued at $[illegible] Personal property outside the corporation limits is valued at $11,884,910 and within the limits of villages and cities at $15,735,110

General taxes levied on the total valuation will, if all persons pay their taxes raise a total of $1,880,400 52 Then there are special assessments against property owners in the amount of $182,002 40

Taxes unpaid in past years have accumulated to the amount of $157,604 01 Of this amount $97,701 63 is on real estate and $59,902 40 on personal property

Grand Total

The delinquent taxes the special assessments and the taxes levied make up the total of $2,309,916 92 which are charged to the county treasurer in the tax duplicate

If every cent of the $1,530,250 52 in general revenue taxes levied in the county was collected this is what would become of it

Schools would take $871,262 71 the state would get $22,071 07 the county's share would be $350,824 67, cities and villages would get $[illegible] and townships would get $87,670 70

But it is likely that part of the tax levied will be delinquent As a result these beneficiaries of the tax payers money will have to share in proportion to the amount collected

The abstract shows that there are 261,102 acres of land in the county outside the corporation limits

Girls, don't worry about middle age

Lots to recommend it, if you keep fit

TELL a sensible woman of 50 that she looks like the older sister rather than the mother of her children and she just laughs at you

"I'm middle-aged" she'll declare, "and not trying to hide the fact Why should I? Middle age has a lot in its favor—that is, if you're well and healthy I've done a good job of raising my family and now I can enjoy myself Do a lot of things I've always wanted to do

"I've never had a doctor in my life except when my babies came Never got the habit of dosing myself with pills and medicines, either I just take Nujol—all the time my babies were coming and in between times too Probably I'll always depend on Nujol"

Even the healthiest woman is helped by taking Nujol—especially at times when her system is apt to be thrown off balance and her regular functions upset This pure mineral oil keeps your system functioning normally and naturally even under abnormal conditions It not only prevents an excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming but aids in their removal It's these poisons that age people prematurely Makes them feel old and tired and useless

Nujol isn't a medicine or drug For this reason it can't possibly disagree with you or upset you It is simply a pure natural product It works effectively without being drastic This is important to women particularly on the occasions when they cannot afford to be upset

Start Nujol now—whether you're in your teens or approaching middle age Keep it up for three months At the end of that time you'll wonder how you ever got along without it Worth a try, isn't it? You'll find Nujol at all drugstores In sealed packages only

CHILLS and that vague achy feeling give notice of a cold coming on. Don't wait. Side step it quickly with

A beauty contest planned by the National Zeitung of Berlin has been abandoned because of the fact that not a single really good looking girl sought to enter it which speaks volumes for the modesty and good sense of the beautiful young women of Berlin

We note that a Columbus paper editorially speaks of the call of the wild which we assume is just another way of referring to the honk honk of the youth from the curb in front of his girl's home

An East St Louis young woman lost a valuable diamond ring while preparing hamburger sandwich filling and while eating a sandwich the following day bit into it The lesson to be had from this is that in preparing hamburger for sandwiches the utmost care should be exercised by good housewives equipped with store teeth

A New York state assemblyman has introduced a bill requiring all pedestrians using the state highways from half an hour after sunset to half an hour before sunrise to carry taillights It might help some, too were they to wear an armor of pneumatic mats

Our Admiration and Sympathy

We have the highest admiration for the Prince of Wales on his present mission, and at the same time he has our heartfelt sympathy We do not begrudge him his visit to South Wales where in the mining district he is beholding scenes which make him heart sick

We here in America can hardly comprehend such poverty such misery, such suffering for the want of the essentials of life as are confronting the young prince in South Wales Hardship and suffering are sometimes experienced in this country as the result of a great long continued strike in the coal industry but such situations as o[illegible] here are not to be compared with those in the mining districts of Wales

The prince has visit[illegible] [illegible] cottages with an attic in which six or eight were h[illegible] and possibly only one working, often the only worker being a mere lad drawing a lad's pay He found one village in which the average earnings of a family were on[illegible] $1 50 and the people of the village considered themselves fortunate in that they had [illegible] while those of many other villages w[illegible] other villages he found [illegible]

[illegible]

One can [illegible] is [illegible] [illegible] pone [illegible] affe[illegible] even temperam[illegible] [illegible] such [illegible] this [illegible] of $5 000 000 Even the cordiality and heartiness with which he is being received everywhere and the manifest admiration [illegible] loyalty felt for him must add to his knowledge of the [illegible] which confronts [illegible] his sickness of heart

Defective Jury System

[illegible] kidna[illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] tion of [illegible]

[illegible] all the [illegible] first [illegible] entering [illegible] the crime and found th[illegible] had refused to take the stand a[illegible] in his own behalf not guilt[illegible]

So outrageous was the ve[illegible] the facts alleged during the trial [illegible] on istent [illegible] it was returned [illegible] zed and the trial judge not only [illegible] his astonishment but also rebuked th[illegible] telling its members to return the following afternoon at which time he quizzed the members separately with the result that one juryman was sentenced to prison for sixty days for contempt of court

When examined for jury service the jury man [illegible] said he had never been in [illegible] in the outcome of a criminal trial [illegible] had no prejudice [illegible] the police but when [illegible] appeared in court the afternoon following the return of the verdict he acknowledged that he had been arrested numerous times and had been extradited and tried in Indiana for [illegible]

As the juryman had not been under oath when questioned for jury service he could not be sent[illegible] for perjury and thus the only punishment he could be made to suffer was that for showing contempt of court by lying and practicing an imposition upon it [illegible] become a member of the jury by so doing he was in position to sway the jury toward clemency, which it is rather strongly intimated that he did

Let it not be imagined that this is an isolated case that it is unique in the history of criminal jurisprudence—or civil for that matter It probably has occurred hundreds and thousands of times to the frustration of justice In fact there are many cases of record where jury service has been deliberately courted to that end and in some cases with the connivance of corrupted officials

In the smaller cities and villages where practically all who serve on juries are known both to court officials and attorneys outrages on justice such as this in Chicago are rather uncommon but in the larger cities where the average talesman is unknown to either officials or counsel the trick may be the more easily turned

Scarcely a day passes that there is not added evidences offered that our entire criminal court procedure should be overhauled and made up-to-date As it is today save in those states in which there has been revision of the criminal laws and court procedure every advantage is with the criminal and practically every technicality works to the disadvantage of the general public

The French Academy of Science is producing strawberries electrically but the cost is five dollars a berry It is hardly necessary to state that the resident demand is somewhat limited

We have been hearing so much about the can opener of late that we are beginning to wonder if a cap lid which will automatically release itself isn't really the crying need of the times

As we get it Police Commissioner Whalen of New York City didn't discharge his chauffeur and transfer that traffic policeman as the result of misconception of the city traffic ordinance but rather because both of them were bull headed which will strike many as a perfectly good ground

If nothing else, her first new heavily armored and powerfully armed cruiser should prove a mighty good trading proposition for Germany which is outside the Washington agreement limiting the United States Great Britain and France to eight inch guns on cruisers

A cable from Paris tell[illegible] us that one of the original [illegible] dancers of the Gay Nineties has died there in poverty which just about forces the conclusion that the late Mark Twain was looking into the future when he [illegible] described the can[illegible] in his Innocents Abroad

"Flu" Complications Dangerous.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

As I write this the papers are carrying accounts of the ravages by influenza It takes so long after it is written for one of my articles to go through the various processes before it is printed in the papers that it would be useless now to speak of the care and prevention of influenza I fear the information would be given too late

But there will be after effects of this disease which will be felt by many persons who have suffered from it It is my present desire to speak of these

The danger of all the acute respiratory diseases including influenza is that a condition of [illegible] may take place The germs of the pus producing germs and other unfriendly agents are all the time seeking admission to the human body This is the serious thing about influenza No matter how severe may be the type of influenza in a given epidemic a patient rarely dies It is the complication of pneumonia or pleurisy that is most likely to prove serious

Such complications are not the only ones There may be trouble with the kidneys What is even more serious is involvement of the nervous system

If you are attacked by influenza you should go at once to bed and make a business of getting well In that case the unfriendly germs will not have the opportunity to engraft themselves upon your system

If you are convalescing from influenza and are not making a satisfactory recovery it is necessary to find out what is wrong You should talk with your family doctor about it He will examine your chest to make sure that the lungs are clear and that no remnant of disease is left there

At the same time the doctor will listen to the heart's action to see if that organ is functioning in a normal way Likewise there will be a test made of the kidneys function to see if it is as it should be

After the great epidemic of 1918 we found a few cases of sleeping sickness Of course this is not the sleeping sickness such as they have in Africa The term as we use it is given to an involvement of the brain and nervous system in which sleepiness and inability to perform mental work are the prominent symptoms

I shall not undertake to detail the treatment which should be followed in any one of these complications of influenza My purpose is to call them to your attention in order that you will be governed accordingly If you are not progressing satisfactorily it is vitally important to be wisely advised as to what further should be done

Editorial Opinion.

GERMANY STEALS A MARCH

While Uncle Sam and John Bull are wrangling over cruisers Michel of Germany has stolen a march not only upon them but upon the other navies of the world The Reich has evolved a so called light cruiser of vastly deadlier effectiveness than any warship of the type ever designed She is Ersatz Preussen, first of a group of four formidable sisters

According to experts the German vessel would be capable in an [illegible] of destroying [illegible] handed two ships of the 10 000 ton type which the United States and Great Britain are now building Although of the same displacement Ersatz Preussen's superiority lies in her greater hitting power and speed

Against the Anglo American ships eight eight inch guns—the maximum caliber permitted by the Washington treaty to which Germany is not a party—the Reich cruiser mounts six eleven inch weapons From their wide mouths a broadside totaling nearly 4 000 pounds can be hurled The main batteries of the American and British cruisers can throw a broadside of only 2 000 odd pounds Thus broadside for broadside the German cruisers would have the other 10 000 ton vessels outgunned nearly two to one

In respect of speed the Ersatz Preussens are little less marvelous Our cruisers and their British counterparts are capable of a continuous voyage of 10 000 miles at thirteen knots The German vessels are built to travel that distance without refueling at twenty knots It is estimated that they could cruise 18 000 or almost three fourths of the circumference of the globe on their own bunker capacity of oil fuel and under the impulse of their internal combustion engines which are said to be of revolutionary capacity

Granting the risk of another British [illegible] it is easy to conceive that an Ersatz Preussen might paralyze high seas commerce in any war to which Germany was a party She could remain out of range of 10 000 ton cruisers of the American and British types and pound them to pieces—two of them at a time if necessary

The treaty of Versailles limited the size of warships Germany might in future build But it was silent about the caliber of guns the Germans might mount on the ships permitted them In particular Versailles failed to place an embargo on German shipbuilding skill In that important direction the Reich obtained a freedom of the seas which she is now capitalizing to a very remarkable and somewhat disquieting degree —Washington Star

ANOTHER BRITTEN BLUNDER

When Congressman Britten went over the state department's head and wired Stanley Baldwin to meet him in Canada to discuss a naval truce it was generally felt that he had reached the utmost height of political ineptitude There remained however one higher peak for him to scale That was to attempt to influence legislation in the congress by quoting the alleged opinion of a president elect which happened to disagree diametrically with the views of the president for the time being This he has now surmounted by publicly declaring that he is sure the time limit —which Mr Coolidge desires shall be eliminated from the cruiser bill— will be pleasing to President Elect Hoover and basing this conviction on a talk he recently had with the president elect

Whether or not the elimination of the time limit would be pleasing to Mr Hoover we are pure sure that it is not pleasing to him to be quoted in a way to give the impression that he wishes to invade the congress before the reins of executive authority are actually in his hands As a matter of fact he has been careful to avoid even the appearance of usurping a prerogative that will belong to Mr Coolidge until March 4 One lives to learn and after all Mr Hoover is new to the presidential game When he has played it longer he will know that it is not always safe to reveal one's innermost thoughts even to a congressman

The time clause should remain in the cruiser bill as Chairman Britten contends but it is a temptation to nail it down [illegible] has committed another breach of etiquette that is less offensive than his recommendation to [illegible] prime minister of the United Kingdom only because its implications are confined to this country —Detroit Free Press

McIntyre on Vacation

BY O O McINTYRE

Paris, Feb 1—Gene Tunney [illegible] day from the Hotel George V [illegible] [illegible] was met for tea at th[illegible] [illegible] and his bride had be[illegible] [illegible] expedition in London and [illegible] hurry back to their home [illegible]

There will be no return to [illegible] at [illegible] Tunney having ju[illegible] [illegible] in Italy for summer Mrs Tunney the former Polly [illegible] the [illegible] phrase beautiful [illegible] ing [illegible] is a tall brunet of [illegible] and glows with girlish freshness

They [illegible] a couple deeply and [illegible] love and [illegible] happy He [illegible] through with the ring—that appears certain He told me he was grateful for what [illegible] had done in building up a strong body He once had a [illegible] arm [illegible] The same arm [illegible] that won the championship

He was [illegible] ful the ring had given him financial independence but he has no further sentiment [illegible] for it He disliked [illegible] back-slapping [illegible] This was evidenced [illegible] posture [illegible] sought [illegible] the tea room [illegible] He was totally oblivious of the [illegible] who recognized him

Fight fans will never understand Tunney He [illegible] to Dempsey as Mr Dempsey This is no pose He simply can not speak the language of fistiana and how he ever became mixed up in the rough and tumble world will always be a mystery to me and I knew him long before he became champion

He is extremely exercised over the invasion of his [illegible] sensational press following his marriage [illegible] especially is he bitter toward the tabloids Mr Tunney revealed they intended to keep the engagement secret A discharged servant seeking vengeance tipped off a newspaper Then the hullabaloo And self exile [illegible]

Tunney was evasive about his future It is said he wants to write and it is fairly certain he expects to spend the most of his time for the next few years abroad I wish I might print Tunney's view of a certain gentleman high in politics in New York It is exactly my own And sizzles

At tea—the boys at home should see me tea-ing in Paris—today one could not help noticing how few French women smoke in public It seems confined solely to the grisette in the circular bars In a crowd of several hundred nearly all the American and English women were inhaling smoke to their rouged knees but not a native woman smoked

Paris is prize fight mad There are several fights weekly at various Cirques and all are packed The rioting and flood of billingsgate characterizing Madison Square Garden affairs are missing Gendarmes are everywhere and rowdiness results in a Spanish walk to the exit—toot sweet And the announcer in full evening dress was the image of Monsieur Joe Humphreys in [illegible]

The gravity of the [illegible] is [illegible] bolized to me in the deep [illegible] brooding serenity of the Bois Here Paris meditates Now it is carpeted with falling leaves and the great and beautiful trees stand stark and naked but always in its remotest depths will be found pensive strollers moving slowly heads down and hands folded behind lost in reverie Save for the fall of mounted horse hoofs on the soft turf there is an almost ominous silence Sober thinking Paris loves the Bois as loose living New York loves Broadway Starry eyed lovers in close embrace amble along every path It is doubtless one of the most appealing spots in all the world Paris has the glitter of sham but the Bois has the majestic dullness of reality

Ho! For the Earth's Center.

BY GARRETT P SERVISS

Of course almost every one w[illegible] Where is the earth's center of [illegible] would reply At or near the earth's [illegible] always seemed reasonable to [illegible] began to ask why Because at the [illegible] center there is nothing and [illegible] could not exert attraction In other [illegible] we could make a hollow space [illegible] earth would not a feather released [illegible] drawn to the wall of the hollow [illegible] to the center of the earth's [illegible] may be a theoretical perplexity [illegible] some hundreds of miles from [illegible] —Harold W Walker New York

The situation at the center of the [illegible] much more curious than you suppose [illegible] point where pressure is g[illegible] is zero Weight is a fu[illegible] but there is no gravity at [illegible] gravity

One of the most interesting re[illegible] mathematical study of [illegible] is the demonstration that [illegible] superincumbent pressure of the [illegible] posing the earth must reach a [illegible] at the center at the same time [illegible] disappears [illegible] because [illegible] the attraction of the spheric [illegible] around it is balanced in every direction

So if you were imprisoned at the center you would be compressed with [illegible] of 45 000 000 pounds per square inch [illegible] but you would not weigh anything there was no way to weigh you [illegible] in passing the humors of the English [illegible]

Inside your imaginary hollow sphere a[illegible] earth's center there would be no a[illegible] in any direction The feather would [illegible] drawn to the wall of the hollow but [illegible] listlessly remain at any point where [illegible] pened to be placed This would be th[illegible] no matter how extensive the [illegible] if it occupied all the space included [illegible] the globe except a superficial shell the [illegible] would be the same

I have sometimes thought of writing [illegible] amazing story of adventures inside a hollow earth There is plenty of fuel for [illegible] imagination in it Perhaps some one [illegible] now get ahead of me and write a better [illegible] than I could

One of the curious consequences of what has been said above about the balance of [illegible] traction inside a sphere is seen in the [illegible] tion of gravity with increase of depth [illegible] globe The principle is this As you go down you leave above your level a shell of earth of thickness equal to your distance from the surface and the attraction of the whole mass of this shell is subtracted from the force of gravity tending to the center When you [illegible] to the center the entire mass of the globe above you on all sides so that it has no longer any effect in urging you toward the center while on the contrary its attraction away [illegible] the center is equal in every direction or [illegible] in other words effectively null

Inasmuch however as the layers of the earth's shell are not uniform in density it happens that the force of gravity [illegible] does at first increase slightly in going down so that a body taken from the surface to moderate depth in miles would be a little heavier than on the surface But calculation shows that this ceases at a depth probably [illegible] about 600 miles where gravity reach[illegible] maximum Below that gravity steadily decreases until it vanishes at the center [illegible] member that by gravity is meant a force tending toward the center Einstein [illegible] gravitation should not be called a force But no matter let him tell We all understand what force means while space time curvature has no sense except perhaps in Alice land which you can get into if you are [illegible] to go through the looking glass —Copyright 1929 International Feature Service In[illegible]

The Way of the World.

BY GLOVER PATTERSON

The gambling instinct that seems [illegible] pretty well distributed among human beings is not all bad Gambling may not be a [illegible] word but there is such a thing as good gambling Insurance is an excellent gamble Certain policies might be made more of a gamble and they would doubtless make a greater appeal For instance [illegible] age one can buy a $25 000 policy under the terms of which $2 000 a year will be paid for life, beginning at the age of sixty five But this is not much of a gamble The reason it is not is because the company offers so much definite value The policy says that even if you do not live a year after [illegible] of sixty five the company will make the payments to your estate of $5 000 each [illegible] says that if you are totally disabled [illegible] pay your premiums If you die you[illegible] will receive the $25 000 This is an expensive policy but it is not much of a gamble It is a sure thing

A good gamble—one that would appeal to many—would be a policy which could be bought for a very low price—a mere fraction of what the one just described costs [illegible] policy would pay $5 000 a year for [illegible] age sixty five—but that would be all There would be no $25 000 for the estate at [illegible] No disability clause No payments guaranteed to anybody except the man actually insured Just a straight gamble on [illegible] of the company that the insured [illegible] live until he was sixty five or lo[illegible] Sitting in a group of men the other [illegible] writer heard a general demand for [illegible] insurance policy which would re[illegible] basis of chance with no certainty of [illegible] of any kind

Dawn Powell's New Book

"THE Pride's House" by Dawn Powell will be released Feb. 15 by Brentano's. The story has as a background farm life in northern Ohio in the early '90s. Sophie Truel is hounded by a lust that flares and flickers through the whole family from Lotta the mystic to Mary Cecily, frail, beautiful fanatic. Sophie's fate blends curiously upon that of Anna Stacey, pinched, frustrated little schoolteacher and that of Bessie the Rabelaisian cook. The whole near the pattern of warring passions is woven into the sane hearty life of the Western Reserve land of folk of 30 years ago with the horse shows, country fairs, cemeteries, courtships and family reunions that call men and women back from all over the continent. The story is a picture of Ohio farm life familiar to many but unfamiliar to American fiction.

I'd practice [illegible] of myself as well as others and I'd learn to see the humor in every situation. Every girl is looking for a playmate as well as a provider, and Jack is [illegible] indeed without a substitute for play.

It takes laughter as well as love to make the world go round.

Men when they marry want an attractive home as well as an attractive wife.

Meditations of a Married Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

ON LOVE AND OTHER TROUBLES

THE usual misunderstanding starts with the first kiss which the girl regards as just the beginning, —And the man regards as the beginning of the end.

Love is a sentimental [illegible] The remorse and headaches may follow but while the glamor lasts you say and think sublime things that would never occur to you when cold sober.

Those must have been dull days before Prohibition when ladies never drank cocktails, much less went in for spangled cocktail jackets and jeweled flasks.

It is hard to say which suffers more on a legal holiday, the woman whose husband hangs around the house and makes trouble and criticisms or the woman whose husband goes out and makes big whoopee.

To a man a decade is just ten years—but to a woman it is the gulf between youth and [illegible]

Nowadays the average girl has no more regard for a wife's proprietary rights in her husband than the average laundry has for the personal ownership of handkerchiefs.

When a man runs away from temptation in his twenties it is pretty safe to predict that at forty he'll be hanging back waiting for temptation to OVERTAKE him.

The kitchens of the world are wet with the tears of young wives whose enthusiasm for cooking has been punctured forever by a scornful sniff.

Funny how all a married man's grateful gallantry to women suddenly subsides the moment his wife [illegible] him and puts him back into [illegible]!

Wash clothes in water softened with Melo—save ⅓ to ½ the usual amount of soap

CLOTHES washed in hard water are hard to get clean. The hardness in the water combines with the soap and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. It gets into the fabric of the clothes. No amount of rinsing can get it all out.

But soften hard water with Melo and there isn't any scum. The water makes wonderful suds. Melo saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap ordinarily used. With or without soap water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

New Invention Banishes Colds, Coughs, Quick

[illegible] the new discovery now being introduced to men and women in this city and the surrounding country known as Arome proves it is no longer necessary to upset your whole system to get relief from colds, coughs, headaches, etc.

Arome is an aromatic liquid which [illegible] fected parts. There's no upsetting stomach and digestion with tablets or powders or no waiting for these things to be absorbed by the system before you get results.

Arome is an aromatic liquid which vaporizes as you inhale it. All you do is put a few drops of it on your handkerchief and breathe it in through nose and mouth. You begin to get relief instantly. It clears up the air passages and relieves that stuffed up feeling. It dispels the congestion which causes headaches. It soothes the irritated and inflamed lining of the nose and throat, relieving coughs, head colds, nasal catarrh, etc. The first few inhalations will convince you of its merit. Then it's just a question of breathing it at intervals until you are completely relieved.

Arome is highly concentrated so it keeps its effectiveness all day when carried on your handkerchief. Or you can easily carry the handy 50c vial in purse or pocket. All drug stores sell Arome on a money back guarantee to give satisfaction. Adv

Harriet said evenly:

"I'll take all the responsibility. After all, I'm Lord Furber's secretary."

"You're what?" Astonishment in [illegible] tone.

Harriet thought:

"He's holding my hand rather a long time."

She said:

"His lordship's confidential secretary. At least he offered me the place only about an hour ago. I didn't accept it instantly. But since—since things happened I have accepted it, though of course he doesn't know. So I am Lord Furber's secretary, and while he's ill I'm entitled to act on his behalf, seeing that I stand higher than your cousin." She thought she saw in the operator's demeanor a clear indication that he was considerably impressed.

The operator replied:

"Forgive me if I say that I doubt if you know exactly what you want, and anyhow I don't think you fully realize what you'll be doing if I carry out your suggestion about this message. For instance, when we reach the neighborhood of Ostia what shall you do next?"

"I'll decide that when we get to Ostia, dear Mr. Tunnecliff," Harriet murmured softly. "I admire your caution. But I repeat I'll take the responsibility. All I ask just now is your help and I hope you won't [illegible] it." Her tone said: "I'm perfectly sure you won't refuse it—can't refuse it."

The operator smiled with a chivalry almost tender, and his next words were uttered in a low, enveloping tone that surprised even the smile.

"Just let me say this," he began. His face approached Harriet's. He paused.

"When will he loose my hand!" [illegible] Harriet. "Really he's going [illegible] far."

[illegible] she had [illegible] fear that she [illegible] been carrying [illegible] with [illegible] possibil[illegible] very [illegible] consequences [illegible] She wondered what [illegible] would [illegible] as a response to her [illegible] the [illegible] man attempt to kiss her. In other words having asked for trouble she objected to receiving it.

Your fancy amuses me. But I'm much more amused by your simplicity. Believe me, you can't put one over on me, a [illegible]. Here for the last 10 minutes you have been absurdly using your absurd feminine charm to get me to do something perfectly absurd that you know I oughtn't to do even if it wasn't absurd. You can't do it. I am just as insensible to fashionable women as I am to Naples multimillionaires. You say me cold."

He [illegible] her fingers and continued to gaze at her [illegible] gently.

"I don't know what you're after with your [illegible] off Ostia and I'm pretty sure you don't know either. What I do know is that you're a simpleton. You imagined you were serving me up on toast for yourself. Well, you weren't, my dear young lady * * * Sea-sick indeed! Let me advise you to go and lie down."

During these remarks his dulcet note and his tender admiring smile had not varied.

Harriet, magnetized for a space by amazement, snatched away her hand at last. More completely than ever did she comprehend the meaning of the word 'Tartar' in Luke John Tunnecliff's dictionary.

When she got outside the [illegible] and the door was shut [illegible] her she remained standing [illegible] A headwind was blowing [illegible] the moon was obscured by cloud, but of diffused light there was sufficient to show the [illegible] of the sea far below. The forms of the great launches and other boats [illegible] and stayed on either [illegible]. A lamp in the Captain's quarters cast a beam through his starboard windows. The moving and the stationary figures of officers on the high navigating bridge were faintly silhouetted against the dark sky. She could see the masthead lights overhead. Turning to the left she noticed that a whole galaxy and procession of lights, a few colored, was overhauling the yacht on the port beam; some liner shifted from the Atlantic to carry tourists on a Mediterranean pleasure cruise; the huge and formidable affair, magically afloat and urgent in the night, passed the yacht as though she had been standing still and reduced her to a trifle on the ocean. On the starboard beam some distant shorelights feebly twinkled. In a few minutes the liner was a mile ahead and fast diminishing to a blur on the horizon.

The Message

All was romantic, nocturnal, scarcely believable. But for a mere hazard of existence Harriet would at that moment have been asleep in a hotel bed amid circumstances completely prosaic. And here she was on a strange vessel surrounded by people whom she had never before seen and by inexplicable mysteries and by perils against which she could not guard. An astounding adventure. A subject for epic poetry.

But she did not feel in the least poetical. She felt very angry with the wireless operator and still angrier with herself. She had been baffled, humiliated, beaten, and she had invited her fate. What the wireless operator had said about her was odiously true. No! It was untrue and monstrous! Yes it was too true! And so on. She was innocent. She was guilty! She was a queen of men. She was a silly raw school girl! And so on. She would have liked to cry. But she refused to cry, and instead stamped her feet on the vibrating, slightly heaving deck. She swore profoundly under her breath.

She was in two minds whether or not to go back into the cabin and give the operator a few choice specimens of the things she thought about him when the cabin door opened behind her. She did not budge. She could see her own shadow thrown on the deck in front of her by the cabin lamp and the lengthening shadow of the operator himself.

She thought, unschooled by her experiences:

"He's given in! I've won!"

"Miss Perkins."

"Well."

"I've just received this message."

In the ray of the cabin lamp the man held up to her with both hands a numbered form on which he had written the following words—words which she would have preferred for the sake of her dignity not to read but which she was somehow compelled to read:

"Lord Furber Yacht Vanguard. Kindly send launch with ship's papers into Ostia, and reply that you will do so. Farinacci, General Secretary Fascisti, Palazzo Chigi, Rome."

"Do you expect me to believe that you've really received that?" She laughed shrilly.

"No, I don't expect anything. I never expect anything from anybody. But I've received it."

A deckhand came up the after starboard companion.

"Did you ring, sir?"

"Oh, no! The bell rang all by itself. Take this to the captain."

"Yes, sir."

The operator returned to his cabin and shut the door.

Harriet knew that he had really received the message. It was the most remarkable and disturbing coincidence she had ever known. And she was frightened. As a sort of symbolic protection she drew Lord Furber's coat more tightly around her.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

TODAY was Friday and a fella that didn't know any better, and I didn't, would think each day was would be warmer but the wind changed last night and this morning it was cold enough to put a permanent wave in my grandfather's whiskers if he had tooken them out in it. But he didn't. He don't go out much in cold weather. He chews and chews till he is so loaded he can't answer a civil question and then he goes to the door and opens it and cracks loose and if there is anyone just coming up the steps it is just too bad. And that keeps the house cooled off too till my aunt says it is a wonder that everybody in the family don't have pneumonia. My father says it costs my grandfather a lot of money to learn to spit like he does. I did not know there was places a fella could go to learn to spit. I want to go to that school. Spitting comes natural to me.

When I had fed my face and rubbed off what I could for Jubilee and I went out we all went down to the pond to see if there was any rubber ice but the cold night had tightened everything up again so there wasn't. Then I told the bunch what each of them was to do when I go carrying a package to Podgeen and they were all excited, except Maggie, the girl that got vaccinated on her leg so it wouldn't show, and Younise and Feeble and they all stood together and looked at me. Then Younise asked me to please not go and I said, "Women don't understand such things," and then they all kinda turned up their noses, and then Feeble said she understood, and she says, "When you get where he is you dast him to hit you, and when he pastes you like this," and all at once she walloped me on the right ear so hard it started me weaving, and before I knew what she was going to do she finished, "you soak him like that!" And then I got a wallop on the other ear that straightened me up. And I said, "No, I'll poke him like this!" and I hung one on her chin that made her teeth snap together and made her eyes roll. But she is sure game. She shook her head to straighten her brains and said, "I bet that'll fix him!"

Then we all shoo out for school and my ears felt like a couple of cauliflowers were growing out on the side of my head and every once in a while out of the corner of my eye I could see Feeble take hold of her chin and wiggle her jaw. I thought maybe Podgeen would be waiting for me at school again but he wasn't. It was a good thing for him or somebody that he wasn't.

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affection

BY ADELE GARRISON

Sting Taken Out of Jewelry Episode

JUNIOR scrambled down from his [illegible] father's lap as I came [illegible] [illegible] with the [illegible] [illegible] unlike most men [illegible] [illegible] are present [illegible] [illegible] of admiration [illegible] [illegible] M[illegible] her [illegible] small [illegible] [illegible] fashion [illegible] [illegible] with the [illegible] [illegible] other [illegible] tell the [illegible] [illegible] his [illegible] [illegible] faithfully [illegible] [illegible] Harry's [illegible] [illegible] his father's [illegible]

[illegible] a pen and [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] the time [illegible] [illegible] immediately [illegible] [illegible] bought it over [illegible] [illegible] about [illegible]

[illegible] to the verdict [illegible] my husband said, and I felt [illegible] thrilling [illegible] in his [illegible] but infrequently [illegible] in these later troubled years.

"[illegible] are the stones for you, M[illegible]," my husband went on hurriedly, and I saw that there was [illegible] as well as tenderness in his eyes. He had not been deceived by my forced perfunctory admiration of the ornaments he had given to [illegible] as well as to all the other feminine members of the family. In [illegible] camouflage the similar gift I had seen him urging upon Edith Fairfax. But this equally forced gesture of mine in wearing the imitation jades with gown and coiffure suiting them apparently satisfied my husband that I had accepted his explanation of the gifts.

"I'm glad I didn't wait for birthdays as I first intended," he said frankly, with the propensity for elaborate explanation which wrecks so many well-planned deceptions. "Of course I don't mean this would have been your real present, but even as a secondary thing I wouldn't have liked to give you that imitation jade [illegible] you never wear the real one [illegible] and I thought perhaps you were off that color [illegible]."

Underneath the words [illegible] was [illegible] I heard the under-current of [illegible] I was thinking [illegible] he knew as well as I that my [illegible] trivial reason [illegible] from wearing the exquisite Green Jade necklace, the most beautiful present he had ever given me, and which commemorated something peculiarly sacred and significant to both of us. I simply could not bear to bring up the tender memories which the lovely thing evoked and had locked it away in my box of personal treasures.

But in the sudden rush of tenderness which was mine I resolved to wear the necklace upon the very first opportunity. Feeling nearer in spirit to him than had been my lot for many a day, I answered his question.

"Oh! no, indeed," I protested. "That jade green is my favorite color and I would rather wear that necklace than anything else I own. I've been promising myself a new evening gown which would do it justice."

"Let me design it for you, will you?" Dicky asked, and I saw the look in his eyes which meant that the 'artistic temperament' had seized him and that he was visualizing me in some sartorial conception of his own. It was not a new experience for me. In the first days of our marriage Dicky gave me the best ideas for most of my gowns—his eye for color and line is unerring—but in these later months of estrangement I had felt that he neither knew nor cared what I wore.

"I'd love to have you," I told him truthfully, and his eyes narrowed in the old way as he looked at me.

TWO CHILDREN ARE MADE WELL BY NEW KONJOLA

Grateful Mother Tells of the Splendid Experience They Had With This Modern Medicine

MISS RUTH STUVER

"The wonderful experience our family had with Konjola will be of interest to many families, especially to mothers whose children are troubled with weak stomachs, irregular kidneys and nervousness," said Mrs. Nora Stuver, 403 Commercial st., New Philadelphia, Ohio.

"My daughters, Ruth 13, and Jane 10, were in ill health. Ruth suffered from stomach trouble after every meal. She did not sleep well at night and was losing strength and weight. Her failure to show improvement was a constant worry to us. We knew that something had to be done and when we heard of Konjola we decided to see what it would do for our daughters.

"It wasn't long after she started to take this medicine that we saw an improvement. She seemed to have better control over her nerves and no longer complained about her stomach 'hurting after meals.' It is a long time since she had a headache or was compelled to rise during the night. She is rapidly regaining her normal weight and strength. Konjola did the same things for Jane and today I have two happy, healthy children."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy [illegible] effect of the Konjola on the entire system brings [illegible] relief [illegible] sufferers [illegible] time [illegible] through this [illegible] experience [illegible] Konjola [illegible] the most highly [illegible] known in this section.

RESCUE OF INDIAN LANGUAGE SOUGHT

Students Take Part in Work for Preservation of Vanishing Tongues

CHICAGO—Rescue [illegible] disappearance of [illegible] Indian language is the mission of Harry Hoijer, [illegible]-year-old graduate student in anthropology at the University of Chicago, who has just left for Tonkawa, Oklahoma.

In Oklahoma the young Chicagoan will record the vocabulary, meanings and grammar of the Tonkawa language, an obscure speech which scientists have been unable to classify and it is said that only nine old Indians members of the tribe which flourished in southeast Texas in the rollicking days of the Spanish conquest. The entire tribe today numbers only 10.

Few Remain

In a preliminary study at Tonkawa last year Hoijer, who will submit his work for a doctor of philosophy degree, said that although 600 Tonkawas survived at the time of the Civil War only 18 full blooded members now remain and the group will soon disappear entirely through intermarriage with other tribes.

The origin of the Tonkawa Indians is obscure and somewhat hidden in mystery, Hoijer said, but they are believed to be related to the Siouian and Hokan tribes. They are now farmers, he said, but originally devoted all their time to hunting buffaloes. Their Indian neighbors report that they were once cannibals but the Tonkawas deny that, according to Hoijer.

Financed by Society

Hoijer's project, which is financed by the committee on linguistic research of the American association for the Advancement of Science, is the third project for recording Indian languages undertaken by anthropology students at the University of Chicago recently.

H. K. Li, Chinese student, worked last year on the Chipewyan languages in the Mackenzie river valley and Cornelius Osgood is now living with Hareskin Indians near Great Bear Lake north of the Arctic Circle attempting to record a fast disappearing language of Indians of the far north.

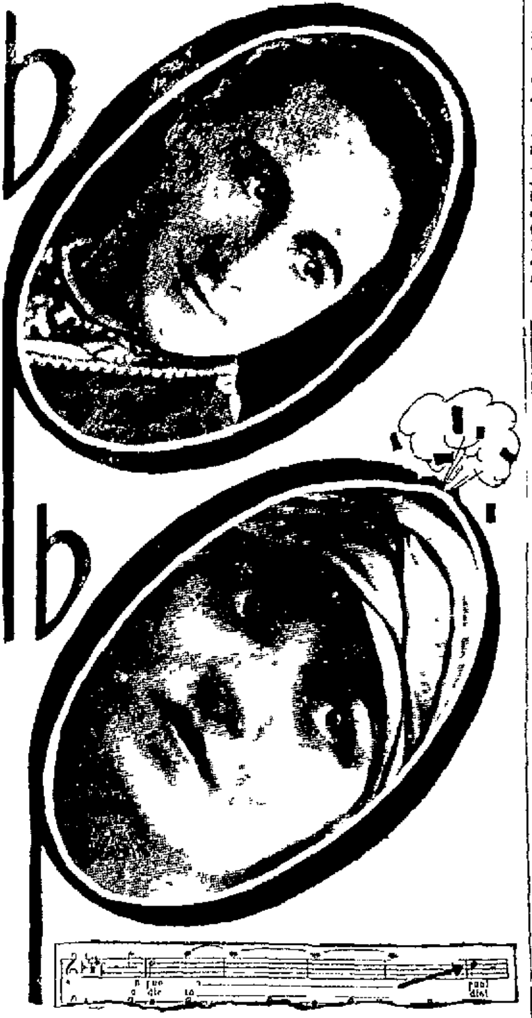
Famous Stars Figure in D-Flat Opera Tragedy



Giacomo Lauri Volpi (above), famous tenor, and Rosa Ponselle, beautiful prima donna, to whom befell most trying of operatic annoyances. Below, several bars from "Il Trovatore," culminating in the D-flat note (arrow) which Lauri Volpi held for eight beats.

Lauri Volpi Held on Three Beats Longer Than Rosa Ponselle

NEW YORK—Operatic prima donnas are traditionally stormy of temperament. Trifles are apt to provoke in them tempestuous attacks of nerves. But none ever had to bear anything quite so trying as the thing which befell poor Rosa Ponselle before an audience glittering in all the panoply of fashion.

The great Ponselle and Giacomo Lauri Volpi were approaching the climax of an almost perfect performance of the opera "Il Trovatore" when it happened. At the end of an exciting scene, the emotional Lauri Volpi, carried away in his part, did what no other tenor had ever done—held a D-flat note for eight beats, three beats after Rosa had ended her own held [illegible].

Audience Cries Bravo!

And the [illegible] after [illegible] and clapping [illegible] into a [illegible] wave of bravos and feet stamping, in which even the orchestra [illegible] joined. A famous director [illegible].

As [illegible] a member of "Il Trovatore" [illegible] and later confirmed by Miss Ponselle and Signor Lauri Volpi, the particular occasion marked the first time they had sung this Verdi opera together. Because of certain exigencies there hadn't been time for rehearsals. But so often had they sung their respective roles with other artists that they felt confident they could carry through without a hitch.

The fireworks came in Act I, Scene II. Lauri Volpi, as Manrico, plays the ardent lover of the fair Leonora, otherwise Miss Ponselle. His rival is Giuseppe Danise, a count who is [illegible] successful in romantic roles. Besides he is a baritone.

They are in a garden. Leonora discovers behind a mask that the troubadour is none other than Manrico, whereupon the count challenges him to a duel. The scene ends with the three rising to the D-flat region. That is, Leonora and Manrico [illegible].

Ponselle Is Heard From

It is usually [illegible] Miss Ponselle and Lauri Volpi [illegible] it together, but the latter kept on [illegible] for three more. It is [illegible] record. When the [illegible] into applause Miss Ponselle burst into tears.

"Why did you shame me so [illegible] there?" Miss Ponselle demanded of Lauri Volpi [illegible] dropped. I finished long before you. Why, why did you do it?"

She was led off to her dressing room by solicitous attendants and a half dozen assistant directors of the Met were summoned to listen to her demand that Lauri Volpi be disciplined. When the final curtain fell the storm had subsided considerably.

"I think Ponselle is a great artist," says Lauri Volpi.

"Mr. Lauri Volpi is a thorough gentleman," retorts Miss Ponselle.

Here's More on Trial of State Treasurer Buckley

[illegible]

Chances Less Sure

The state treasurer [illegible] telegrams [illegible] Grand [illegible]

[illegible] federal inspectors [illegible] Wednesday to [illegible] breweries

Buckley's chances for acquittal appear less brilliant after he [illegible] forced to make these damaging statements from the witness stand [illegible] will probably remain [illegible] for the remainder of the [illegible] Only two more character witnesses are allowed the defense [illegible] after that it is thought that closing arguments will begin

Throughout the questioning the state treasurer kept insisting that "I did it for Mr Eckhart"

Ask 12 Exemptions

Immediately before the noon recess Judge Hough announced that the defense attorneys had requested 12 special exemptions when he (Judge Hough) gave his instructions to the jury This is thought to refer to [illegible] to which the defense attorneys had objected during the trial

Earlier today Buckley testified that neither money nor political support was ever offered Eckhart by him He

The state official is charged with bribery and liquor conspiracy

Buckley made staunch denial of virtually all of the testimony of Eckhart assistant federal prohibition director for Ohio and Indiana the main witness for the government

Makes Many Denials

The white-haired defendant swore he never mentioned the names of Gov Myers Y Cooper and U S Senator Simeon D Fess as higher-ups who had shown interest in the case of the Jackson Brewing Co of Cincinnati Eckhart had testified Buckley had so mentioned the senator and governor

Buckley denied he said that Cincinnati breweries wanted to make good beer but that they were afraid of Eckhart denied that he offered Eckhart $100 a month that he asked Eckhart for tips on contemplated raids on breweries that he said everything was used in Toledo Cincinnati and other cities but that they were afraid of Columbus that he offered Eckhart the job of state prohibition commissioner as an inducement for tips

Accuses Eckhart

Another firm denial made by Buckley was that he said he expected a big fine house out of the deal

The state treasurer declared Eckhart wanted to tip off Cincinnati brewers so as to gain their political influence in securing for him the job of state prohibition commissioner

Buckley was very emphatic in his denials Many questions were answered with a terse No or I did not

Denial of criminal intent and the statement that I did it all for Mr Eckhart were the highlights of Buckley's testimony yesterday afternoon

Praise His Character

The white-haired man assumed the witness stand at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon [illegible] court adjourned [illegible] government [illegible] in the [illegible] Buckley was called to [illegible] character witnesses were sworn in They were Dr [illegible] Dittman Dayton Daniel W H Page Dayton attorney [illegible] Warren [illegible] Dear Dayton [illegible]

[illegible] that Buckley's [illegible] were [illegible]

Former Gov [illegible] as another [illegible] Buckley [illegible] was said President [illegible] Dr W O Thompson [illegible] University and [illegible] Director of the [illegible] Publication [illegible] League also [illegible] called for the same purpose

Buckley made a good witness His answers to the questions put to him by his chief defense attorney Robert N Brumbaugh were deliberate He paused a short time before answering as if to put his mind straight on certain things He gazed ceilingward most of the time A tense silence pervaded the courtroom as the white-haired treasurer of state told his story from the witness stand His wife and two daughters who were in the courtroom kept their gaze focused on him The spectators held their very breath so as not to miss a word of the man's testimony

Buckley related how he had tried to obtain the job of prohibition commissioner of Ohio for [illegible] Eckhart the federal assistant prohibition agent of Indiana and Ohio who was the government's star witness against Buckley

"Did It for Eckhart

The treasurer of Ohio said that when he had tipped off the two Cincinnati attorneys by telegram as to impending raids on breweries in the Queen City he did it for Eckhart as the federal dry agent told him he wanted to keep the parties informed of federal activity

The Cincinnati parties were Aleph Dolly Gruber and John L Schrumper the latter having been jointly indicted with Buckley but who pleaded guilty when arraigned

According to the story related by Buckley Eckhart knew that Gruber had political influence in Cincinnati and hoped to gain this to further his (Eckhart's) candidacy for the prohibition job Buckley declared that Eckhart came to him for his influence [illegible] before the alleged conspiracy started

Eckhart said he was too closely watched to tip the Cincinnati men off himself and came to me to do this the treasurer continued I kept in touch with him throughout my vacation in the south and kept Gruber and Schrumper advised by telegram as to what Eckhart wired me Buckley declared

All of the state treasurer's testimony tended to show that he was framed as has been his contention since he became entangled in the meshes of federal law

Trigger Man and Squealer

And when the requirements of the law have thus been carried out the state of Louisiana will have balanced an account opened on the night of July 1 1927 when at the couple's behest Jim Beedle a trapper emptied the contents of a shotgun into the person of James [illegible] LeBoeuf the unsuspecting husband

Jim Beedle was the triggerman He also was the squealer For his telling of this act and the crafty planning that brought it about the woodsman earned the privilege of serving out his colorless life behind the stone wall of a Louisiana prison instead of paying the supreme penalty as do his co-conspirators today

Refuses To Interfere

Snatched four times from the very brink of the death drop the murderers yesterday surrendered themselves to their fate when federal appellate judges at New Orleans refused to interfere with the due process of the law and the sentence of a lower court This was the last possible legal resort of defense attorneys

COOLIDGE ENROUTE TO FLORIDA CITY

President Dedicates Bird Sanctuary and Singing Tower at Mountain Lake

have been ignored The chief executive will spend six hours in Florida and then start right back for the national capital

The president will spend 48 hours on the train for the purpose of this short visit It is in keeping however with his trips in the past when he has made long journeys away from Washington only to speak and then immediately re-entrain

Oddly enough Mr Coolidge was to dedicate a bird sanctuary today in striking contrast to the fact that just two months ago he took up avidly the sport of hunting small game In the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia over the Thanksgiving holidays he hunted quail—vainly it might be added Through the Christmas—New Year period at Sapelo Island Georgia he shot wild pheasant quail and turkey with much more success

Be that as it was the president got a glimpse of much different weather today as his train moved south When he left Washington last night it was snowing Today the weather steadily got balmier as the special proceeded south

Special Diet

Although Bob's owner became a soldier the pet never had the opportunity to absorb military atmosphere that was allotted Buster a brindle bull that for a number of years was mascot for Company D

According to Major George T Geran Buster took up his quarters at the armory here some time before the company was ordered to the Mexican border in 1916 He shortly became the company mascot When the local troops entrained for the Mexican border Buster went along

Shunned Hot Sands

According to Geran Buster never shirked but one duty as a soldier The dog refused to tramp through the hot desert sand with the troops He endured too reveille and retreat with the company

Some time before the outbreak of the World war Company D obtained possession of another [illegible] his one was an airedale a gift of the former Corning Kennel [illegible]

Both the airedale and Buster remained with the company until a few days before it sailed for France from training camp According to Geran orders were issued prohibiting dogs from being taken aboard ship This order, Geran states ended the army career of both dogs and eventually the life of Buster

Buster and the airedale were returned to Marion the bulldog going back to the armory and the airedale to the Lahue kennels

Pines Away

What became of the airedale Geran does not know But Buster died of a broken heart The keeper at the armory tried to make life comfortable for the dog but within a month after he was taken from the company he died

BRITISH GO AHEAD WITH NAVY BUILDING

Little Likelihood of Any Reduction from Total Voted Last Year

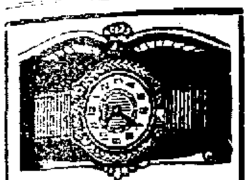
[illegible] 1—Despite the [illegible] disarmament [illegible] demand for economy [illegible] likelihood of the [illegible] estimates for 1929-30 showing any reduction from the total of $280,500,000, voted for the financial year just closing.

In well-informed circles it is declared the British parliament will be asked to authorize the construction of the following new vessels:

One 10,000-cruiser of the "county" class, two 8,400 ton cruisers; one flotilla leader; eight destroyers, and six submarines.

A new aircraft carrier and several sloops are also projected, but the introduction of another long-term building program is considered improbable. From 1930 onwards the requirements of the British navy are expected to be assessed year by year, according to the building activities of the other powers. The fact that the 1931 naval conference at Washington may result in further limitation of cruiser construction is being borne in mind.

An event is a circumstance that seldom happens.



This attractive tonneau shape watch with beautifully engraved white gold case and 15-jewel fully guaranteed movement meets the demand for a high quality watch at a popular price. A variety of designs at

IN NO DANGER

Marshal Foch Has Only Slight Attack of Grippe

PARIS, Feb. 1—Marshall Foch is in no danger and is doing well, Dr. Daveniere, one of the physicians attending him, stated today. Dr. Daveniere has been treating the marshal since he suffered a heart attack complicated by kidney trouble.

"Although the marshal has summarily ordered that he be brought the daily newspapers, I have been obliged to ignore his order because of the exaggerated reports they contain regarding his slight attack of the grippe," Dr. Daveniere said.

MOUSER NEAR END OF STATE SERVICE

Prepares for Starting on Duties as Congressman; Plans Tour of District

Congressman-elect Grant E. Mouser jr., plans to terminate his services in the attorney-general's office about Feb. 15 preparatory to beginning his congressional duties on March 4, according to a statement made by him while a visitor in Marion last night.

Mouser expects to spend the last half of this month making a tour of counties in the eighth congressional district to obtain first-hand information regarding matters to be taken up in Washington. He says that he plans to maintain close personal contact with his constituents by making occasional trips through the district during his term of service.

Mouser is continuing his work with the state office under reappointment by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, who retained him as special counsel. Mouser's duties, since entering the state service last year under former Attorney-General Turner, have been as legal advisor to the state highway department and department of public works.

Y-INDUS MEETS

Club Members Arrange To Take Part in Y. M. C. A. Minstrels

Eleven members of the Marion Y-Indus club were present at the monthly business meeting and supper held last night at Schneider's Barbecue, south of the city.

Plans for enlisting at least part of the club in the Y minstrels to be presented at the Star Auditorium, Feb. 14 and 15, were started. Also seven of the members expressed willingness to take part in this production.

Discussion of future plans for the club, especially concerning the state convention of Y-Indus clubs scheduled for Lima the latter part of this month was postponed until the [illegible] meeting next Tuesday night. Following the supper cards were enjoyed. [illegible] took first honors.

Members present were Robert [illegible], Walter Moore, Chauncey [illegible], William Letter, William Stay, [illegible], Charles [illegible], [illegible] Kerr, Robert Elliott, Donald [illegible], and Duane Church. Norton Rhodes was a guest of the club.

INTERFERENCE PLACED IN THREE CLASSES

INTERFERENCE in the operation of broadcasting stations and in the reception of radio programs can be placed generally speaking in three classes.

The first type is called "heterodyne" [illegible] by its disagreeable whistle of varying pitches. It is produced by the receiver where stations are operating on the same channel or are so close together that they cannot be separated.

Cross talk is the second type and manifests itself by the reproduction simultaneously of two or more programs at once in such a fashion that neither one may be heard satisfactorily by the listener.

Blanketing is really an exaggerated form of cross talk to such an extent that the program of one station is completely blotted out by another. There are sub varieties and combinations of the foregoing forms of interference.

FEAR DEADLOCK ON FUNDS AMENDMENT

Administration Leaders Start Movement To Bring Peace to Factions

WASHINGTON Feb 1—Faced with the possibility of a deadlock between senate and house over the $24 000 000 additional prohibition enforcement fund amendment, which might prevent passage of the urgent deficiency bill administration leaders today launched a movement to bring about an agreement

The bill was returned to the senate by the house today with notice that the latter body had rejected the senate amendments and requested a conference

Not only were predictions made that the conference committees would find difficulty in reaching an agreement but there was a possibility that one or both houses might reject any proposal made

The senate displayed a strong sentiment for the $24 000 000 amendment by voting 50 to 27 to insert it in the deficiency measure while the house yesterday rejected it by the crushing vote of 240 to 141

With the short session rapidly nearing its end a filibustering [illegible] could prevent the passage of the bill which carries $12 000 000 urgently needed by government departments $75 000 000 of which is to [illegible] tax refunds awards [illegible] awards [illegible]

When [illegible] placed [illegible] their [illegible] at the Henry Martin [illegible] amazed A [illegible] later [illegible] a human [illegible] ears the [illegible] many [illegible] about which

It was the first schoolroom test ever [illegible] invention of [illegible] Myers of Pittsburgh It is claimed that persons deaf from birth are enabled to hear by the Myers invention

The apparatus was presented to the school [illegible] by a Canton man who refused to allow his name to be made public Within half an hour after the first word had been spoken into the transmitting apparatus from the teacher's [illegible] the children were able to speak simple words the first intelligible sounds they had ever uttered They could also hear themselves speaking

It is pointed out that many deaf persons lose the power to speak presumably because they cannot hear themselves

The human voice it is explained is transmitted through a microphone by wires to the receivers which in turn set up a vibration in the auditory nerve which is carried to the brain

School authorities believe yesterday's demonstration may be the forerunner of a system which will revolutionize teaching of the deaf and dumb They believe the radio ear will eventually teach students to speak intelligibly and that it may also enable many to hear without the aid of apparatus through development of the auditory nerves

MONTH'S FIRE LOSS SHOWS DECREASE

January Total $1,000 Below 1928 Record, Chief Reports

The number of fires in the city during January was nine less than the number the same month of last year, according to a report issued by Fire Chief T. J. McFarland this morning.

During the month just closed the three departments in the city answered a total of 20 alarms and in January last year a total of 29 calls were answered.

With the decrease in the number of alarms comes a decrease in the amount of damage. Last year the chief recorded a total of $2,250 damage while this year it amounted to only $1,250, a decrease of $1,000.

No large fires occurred in the city during January. One alarm was answered outside the corporation limits when firemen were called to a school building at the edge of town.

Frenchwoman Kills Hubby For Shaving Moustache

PARIS, Feb. 1—With four women today facing the guillotine, unless President Doumergue intervenes, a fifth, Mme. Paul Godin, may take her place with them for shooting her husband because he shaved off his moustache.

M. Godin, a notary, arrived home from a three-week trip just in time for lunch. As he took his place at the table, Mme. Godin demanded:

"Why did you shave off your moustache; so some girl would think you were handsomer?"

M. Godin shrugged his shoulders, got up and started to leave the dining room. Madame Godin snatched a revolver from a buffet drawer and rushed to stop him at the doorway.

"Go ahead and shoot," Godin is said to have remarked smiling, evidently thinking his wife was joking. She fired. The first bullet killed him.

Madame Godin told the police that Godin was squandering her fortune with other women.

Junka Kores, Blanche Vabre, Mme. Anna David and Madame Kurey were sentenced to death on charges of killing minors. Their cases are being debated merely on the principle of breaking a precedent of 40 years by guillotining a woman.

WOOSTER, Feb. 1—It was five weeks ago yesterday that Melvin Horst, four, disappeared from the street near his home in Orrville, east of here. GIRL WHO FLED IN PLANE IS MARRIED

Ruth B. McConnell Becomes Bride of Kenneth B. Coulter

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 1—Ruth B. McConnell 25, today was the wife of Kenneth B. Coulter, 43, of Clifton Springs, N. Y. The man from whom she was reported to have fled in a cross country chase by train and airplane that attracted national attention.

Mrs. Coulter became the wife of a millionaire, for her husband, although 43 years old and a cripple for 20 years, owns large dairy properties in New York and is worth more than $5,000,000.

After a day of mystery yesterday, newspapermen were informed last night that the couple had been married at the home of the bride's father, Maj. Henry E. McConnell in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Coulter gained the spotlight in December when she fled from Rochester, N. Y. to Los Angeles, Calif., pursued by Dr. D. O. Meeker of Rochester, who rode in airplanes and trains to try to overtake the young woman. He was forced down in Nevada, but later visited the young woman in California. She was reported to have been fleeing from the man she married yesterday. However, members of the McConnell family said that she was suffering from a nervous breakdown and that Dr. Meeker had been asked to care for her.

Members of the Myrtyl Ross Players, the entire personnel of the Grand theater and friends of Mrs. Dean in this city, attended the services.

The Rev. S. S. Hardy, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, preached the funeral sermon. The body was taken to Muir, Mich., at 8:30 o'clock this morning for final services and interment Sunday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—Another holdout was erased from the list of unsigned New York Giants today with receipt of the signed contract of Fr[illegible] Lindstrom. Accompanying the document was a letter in which the [illegible] third baseman explained he had been visiting with Burleigh Grimes and other cronies in Wisconsin and hadn't had time to return the contract. It is understood he received a substantial increase in salary.

BISHOP TRACKSTERS WILL OPEN SEASON

Meet State in First Event of Hard Schedule at Delaware

DELAWARE, Feb. 1 — Ohio Wesleyan's track team will embark upon probably the heaviest schedule in its history here Saturday afternoon [illegible] the Bishops will meet Ohio State [illegible] in a dual meet in Edwards gymnasium.

Indoor meets with Ohio State, Michigan State and Western State Normal together with outdoor meets with Ohio State and Butler university make up the bulk of the 1929 program.

Coach George Gauthier's 1928 Buckeye conference and Ohio conference champions will enter the meet here Saturday with uncertain prospects. Failure of several athletes to return to school this year coupled with the loss of others by graduation and the temporary loss of Dwight Kane, Lancaster, national high hurdles champion, is expected to cut deeply into the Bishops' chances for a winning team this season.

Robert Pettibone, Lakeside, star sprinter last season, did not enter school this year. Kane, the national high hurdles champ, is suffering from an internal injury that physicians say will keep him out of competition until probably the start of the outdoor season in April.

Improvement in material for the distance events, however, is encouraging Gauthier to no little extent. In the past six years distance runners have been few and far between at Wesleyan but this year's crop of distance men is far above the average, he says.

Following is the schedule:

Feb. 2—Ohio State here.
Feb. 9—Western State Normal at Kalamazoo, Mich.
Feb. 16—Michigan State College here.
March 9—Central Collegiates at Notre Dame.
March 16—Illinois relays.
March 23—Texas relays.
April 20—Butler university here and Penn relays.
April 27—Drake relays.
May 4—Ohio relays.
May 11—Denison at Granville.
May 18—Miami at Oxford.
May 25—Buckeye conference meet here.

ADONIS OF KANSAS U CAMPUS

Regular exercise, a fair amount of play and lots of sleep, that's the recipe for physical well-being of Charles Fetty (above), twenty-year-old University of Kansas sophomore. Fetty, who hails from Eldorado, Kans., was chosen by Dr. James Naismith, physical director, as best developed athlete in school. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 170 pounds.

MAX SCHMELING AND RISKO MEET TONIGHT

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—Going forward to bigger and better punches upon the nostril, Max Schmeling, the Dempsey of the Deutschlands, will be dropped in with Johnny Risko in a 10 round fight at the Garden tonight and, singularly enough, they are billing the business as Schmeling's "first real test in America." It is conceded that fame is extremely fleeting in affairs of the fist but no one ever thought it would take less than six months for somebody to try to make a trial horse out of Johnny Risko and an authorized headliner out of Schmeling.

A year ago, John had the arguing concession with Heeney as to which was entitled to be lacerated in a genteel way by Mr. Tunney. Heeney was awarded the privilege while John rapiored the air, thereby causing much indignation among the populace. The latter seemed to feel that John had earned the right to be politely cut in public and wanted him to have it. John was at least that close to the heavyweight championship.

Some months later, John went in there with George Godfrey and, while the latter made a most indifferent fight, he did contrive to bash John very painfully in the sun parlor. The incident is presumed to have been the beginning of another Risko. Is this the end? The young man was tougher than a night in jail at the time of the Godfrey fight and since then he has been messing around with a lot of chumps. Only recently, he blew decisions to Jimmy Maloney and Ernie Schaaf. John claims that these were the old essence of petunia and that, in reality, he won both fights, although I don't know that this makes any great difference. The old Risko, I should say, would have left no lingering doubt as to whether he had licked a pair like Maloney and Schaaf.

But, then, the old Risko wouldn't have been playing "straight" to a man like Schmeling and I'm not altogether convinced yet that he ought to be doing it. He will have gone back all the way to the centerfield fence if he justifies this role in all detail tonight.

For Schmeling still has to prove that he is everything we think he may be. He has acted the part to date but it must be admitted that he was off to a good break because a lot of people fancied that he looked like Dempsey. Personally, I think he fights like Schmeling.

I might say worse about him at that. He really seemed to be a good fighter in his few starts here, a two handed puncher and a shifty boxer. And I don't know why not, either. Men like Joe Monte, Joe Sekyra and Pietro Corri, known as the eagle because he spreads so readily, are a long way from even a sub-normal Risko.

As a matter of fact, I guess the lads are justified in terming this Schmeling's "first real test." It may be so real before the evening is over that Max won't know the difference. Somehow, I can't see this tyro playing pranks with a man whose experience includes fights with Tunney, Sharkey, Loughran, Heeney and Godfrey.

John, of course, can't punch a lick. Neither can he box. But, when he was good, he could maul all night long, meanwhile blocking everything very deftly with his torso. They couldn't hurt Risko then; it is claimed now that Godfrey's body punches softened him. It may be only a circumstance that Schmeling seems to be pretty much of a head puncher. Offhand, I would say that this is anybody's prize fight.

WESLEYAN DEFEATED IN OVERTIME GAME BY WITTENBERG FIVE

Bishops Lose First Contest in 13 Starts, 39 to 38

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 1—After winning 13 games in a row, without a single defeat, Ohio Wesleyan fell before the onslaught of Wittenberg's fighting Lutherans here last night, 39 to 38, in one of the fastest and closest games played on an Ohio court this season.

Starting the game as the underdog, having won only one Buckeye conference tilt this year, Wittenberg fought as it never fought before, winning by one point in an overtime period. Joe Keyser, the brilliant Lutheran forward, sank a free throw in the last second to put his team ahead with a victory.

The score at half time stood 20 to 16, with the Bishops on top, but Wittenberg came back fighting more than ever, sinking all its free throw chances, and tied it up at 30 points just before the gun on a toss by Heckenberg.

In the five minute overtime period Kreeger got a field goal and Keyser a free throw, while Wesleyan had to be content with the single shot by "Red" Halliday.

Lineup and summary.

3-YEAR CONTRACTS AT END FOR BABE

Yankees Not Willing To Take Big Gamble on Slugger

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—There will be no more three-year contracts for Babe Ruth when his present one expires this fall, according to President Jacob Ruppert, of the Yankees. The fact that father time is slowly but surely taking his toll is the main reason for the decision to offer the Babe nothing more than a one year contract in the future.

Ruth's three-year contract, which calls for a yearly salary of $70,000, will not be renewed for a long time period, according to the owner of the Yanks. When the time comes to sign a new agreement, the length of the contract will be for only one year. Although Ruppert admits that the Bam probably has three more good years of baseball, he does not deem it advisable to gamble that far with him at a tremendous salary figure.

Babe suffered last year with trouble to his legs.

BAN ON RACE TRACK GAMBLING WILL NOT STOP MIAMI FIGHT

Dempsey Makes Statement After Florida Governor Issues Order

BELLE ISLE, MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 1—A group of racing men waited on a Miami office, brows knit over Governor Carlton's order banning race track gambling. Jack Dempsey called into conference, a suggestion that if the tracks were barred the Sharkey-Stribling fight would be called off.

"But there's no legal objection to the fight," said Dempsey.

"No, but if the tracks were closed it would hurt," said one of the track men.

"I'd be glad to do anything I could to help the tracks," said Dempsey. "The Rickard estate is interested in the Miami Beach Kennel club."

Out of that one of the racing men made the statement that Dempsey had threatened to call off the Sharkey-Stribling fight if Gov. Doyle E. Carlton carried out his order banning race track gambling.

"It's the bunk," said Dempsey when he heard of it, several hours later. "The fight will go on as scheduled. Race track or no race tracks, the fight will be held. I spent most of the day allocating ring side tickets. The arena is under way. Stribling has started training with his first workout. Every mail is filled with seat orders. This fight is not dependent on race tracks or any other diversion. It will be held as scheduled."

The offer of a California city of a quarter million dollars for the fight was just a laugh to Dempsey. "But the fight will be held in Miami Beach as Tex Rickard originally planned. Any other story is the bunk."

Governor Carlton took action against the gambling in a telegram to Sheriff M. P. Lehman of Dade county in which he ordered the sheriff to "make an immediate investigation and take necessary steps to see that the law is enforced."

The governor said that many complaints had been lodged with him charging "flagrant violation of the anti-gambling laws in relation to race tracks in and about Miami."

Local officials refused to make any statement regarding what action they would take but officials of the Jockey club were prepared to continue with the remainder of the 51-day race meeting.

Select a big target. There's more of it to hit.

GALION TEAMS WILL PLAY HARDING AND CENTRAL FIVES HERE

Harding Crippled as Tuttle Sprains Ankle in Practice

TWO contests in which the Harding and the Central Junior high school fives will be featured are scheduled on tonight's bill of basketball entertainment.

Harding, after a layoff of a week, will resume its North Central Ohio league schedule playing Galion on Star [illegible] at 8:15 o'clock. [illegible] is leading the league with [illegible] victories in two starts while the locals have managed to break even in two games.

All's not well in the Red and Black camp as a result of injuries to Tuttle in practice sessions this week. He sustained a sprained ankle that will keep him on the bench for several weeks. He was slated to play his first game tonight at a center berth and was expected to make a strong addition to the Compton team. Garrett and Keller will see action for the [illegible] tonight although they may not get into the starting lineup.

Galion is more or less a mystery team this season. Tied with Bucyrus for first place in the league standings, Galion has won over Shelby and Ashland. Games with teams outside the league have not been so successful for Coach Eaton's quintet.

Under ordinary circumstances Galion should be easy for the Red and Black. But Harding is not an ordinary team this year. The locals insist on losing so-called easy games while winning hard ones. What will happen tonight is a matter of speculation.

One other North Central league game is on the cards tonight. The Mansfield quintet is entertaining Ashland and here is another case where advance dope means little. Ashland has lost to Galion but later defeated Shelby. Mansfield was beaten by Harding and Bucyrus.

Galion Junior high school five will be seen in action at the Y. M. C. A. meeting the local Central five. The contest is scheduled to get under way at 8:15 o'clock.

BALDWIN AND LINDBERGH HAVE DOUBLES IN PARIS

Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister of England, and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, trans-Atlantic aviator, have doubles in Paris.

The Lindbergh double, Armand Chartraine, profited by his resemblance to the famous aeronautical argonaut as long as Sacha Guitry's play "Charles Lindbergh" held the boards.

M. Jean Alesch improves his physical likeness to the statesman by habitually puffing a "Baldwin" brier.

M. Alesch probably will not sniff at the publicity as he is a tailor.

Boulevard columnists are casting about for a stone mason who looks like Mr. Winston Churchill, since it is reported that the Chancellor of the Exchequer skillfully wields a trowel by way of diversion.

What a Manly Young Man

He Surely Is—But 6 Months Ago He Was a Weakling

Young, skinny, rundown men who want to regain their manliness and cast off that shy feeling of inferiority are advised to start right in today and put their faith in McCoy's Tablets.

Thousands of Doctors prescribe the same formula for just such weakness yet any frail young man can go to Henney & Cooper or any drugstore anywhere in America and get 60 McCoy's Tablets for 60 cents—and here's something else—if after taking them for 30 days you are not satisfied with results—money back.—Adv.

In the building of a railway line in French Equatorial Africa 17,000 negro laborers have died from disease, privation, and exposure. As only 87½ miles of single track line have been laid, this works out at nearly 200 lives a mile. In the Belgian Congo 750 miles have been laid out at a total cost of not more than 3,000 lives.

SPENT $1500 TRYING TO GET WELL

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffers from constipation:

"I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and bad stomach. I had saved about $1500. Since then I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation.

"I told my wife to get some kind of light breakfast food and I would try it. She came home with a small package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common tea-saucer full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for about a month. I have stopped taking dope (medicines). I work 9 to 12 hours. I have a good appetite. And now I am gaining flesh and believe I am getting well."—George C. O'Connell, Barker, N. Y.

Cleanse your system of constipation's poisons. Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and vim, stopped constipation forever, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Relief is guaranteed. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. 100% effective—doctors recommend it. Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Use in cooking. See the recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants—dining cars.

AIRPORT PROJECTS DEVELOP RAPIDLY

352 Municipal Landing Fields Now in Use 190 Others Under Way

CHICAGO—American cities will set a new record in 1929 in airport development spending twice as much for aviation fields as in any previous year according to a survey made by Harold Crary of the American Air Transport association

There are at present 352 municipal airports in the United States with a total of 190 additional now under construction or proposed At the election November 6 1928 various cities voted a total of $[illegible] for airdromes

Detroit Leads

Chief among airport activities reported to Crary is that of development in Detroit where a $5 000 000 bond issue for a municipal field has been voted The new Detroit field will be three and one half miles from the city's civic center and is closer to the center of population than Berlin's world famed Tempelhof which is regarded as one of the finest ports in the world

The longest runway on the new Detroit field will be 7400 feet and the shortest about 440 feet The area of the field is 417 acres

Indianapolis Crary reported will erect an airport on a 100 acre tract seven miles west of the city

600 Acre Airdrome

St Louis has started improvement of its 600 acre airdrome The city has voted $2 000 000 in improvement bonds for the work

An immense hangar is to be constructed by private interests in Cleveland

Designs for the new ship fields and buildings include many improvements Crary said Administration buildings air weather observatories and bureaus fireproof hangars and paved runways are a few of the new features which will be seen in the 1929 ports

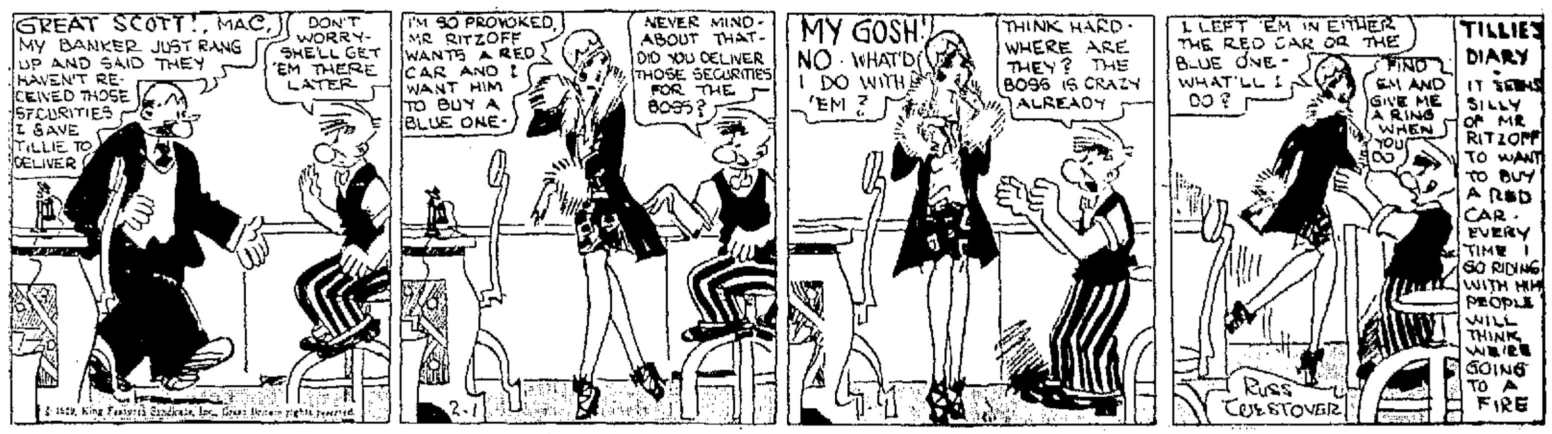
WHAT'S SECURITIES TO A CAR?

BY RUSS WESTOVER



GREAT SCOTT!, MAC, MY BANKER JUST RANG UP AND SAID THEY HAVEN'T RECEIVED THOSE SECURITIES I GAVE TILLIE TO DELIVER
DON'T WORRY - SHE'LL GET 'EM THERE LATER
I'M SO PROVOKED, MR RITZOFF WANTS A RED CAR AND I WANT HIM TO BUY A BLUE ONE -
NEVER MIND - ABOUT THAT - DID YOU DELIVER THOSE SECURITIES FOR THE BOSS?
MY GOSH! NO - WHAT'D I DO WITH 'EM?
THINK HARD - WHERE ARE THEY? THE BOSS IS CRAZY ALREADY
I LEFT 'EM IN EITHER THE RED CAR OR THE BLUE ONE - WHAT'LL I DO?
FIND 'EM AND GIVE ME A RING WHEN YOU DO

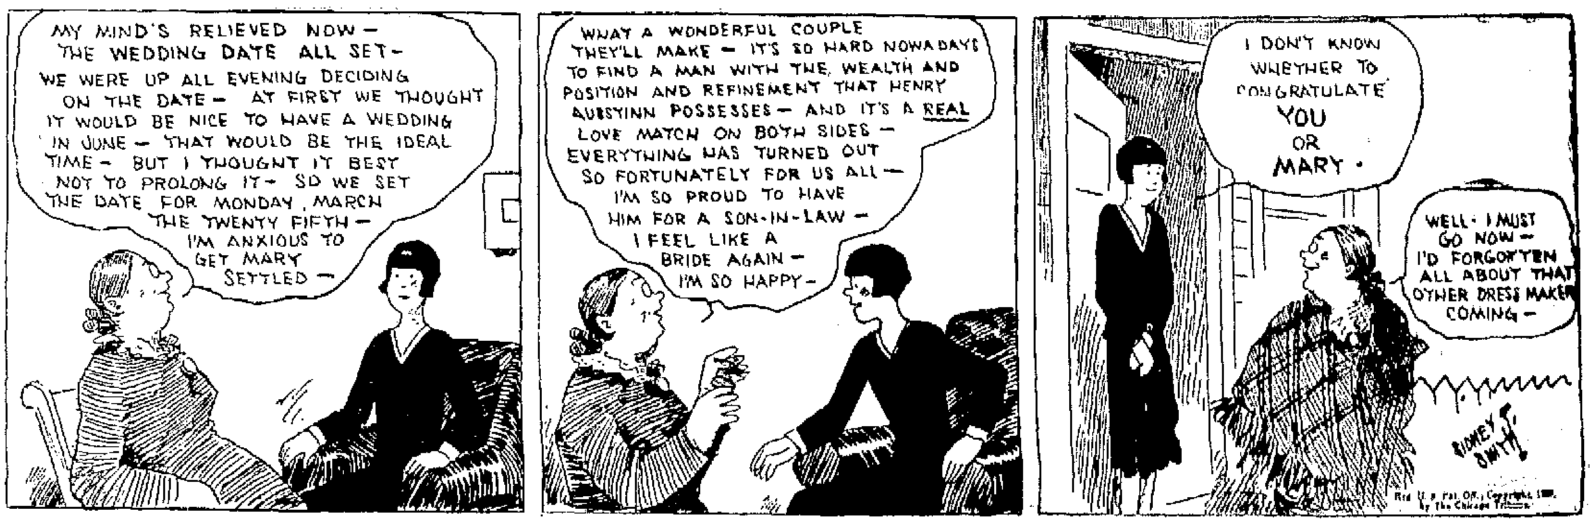
MARRYING OFF MARY

BY SIDNEY SMITH



MY MIND'S RELIEVED NOW - THE WEDDING DATE ALL SET - WE WERE UP ALL EVENING DECIDING ON THE DATE - AT FIRST WE THOUGHT IT WOULD BE NICE TO HAVE A WEDDING IN JUNE - THAT WOULD BE THE IDEAL TIME - BUT I THOUGHT IT BEST NOT TO PROLONG IT - SO WE SET THE DATE FOR MONDAY, MARCH THE TWENTY FIFTH - I'M ANXIOUS TO GET MARY SETTLED -
WHAT A WONDERFUL COUPLE THEY'LL MAKE - IT'S SO HARD NOWADAYS TO FIND A MAN WITH THE WEALTH AND POSITION AND REFINEMENT THAT HENRY AUBSTINN POSSESSES - AND IT'S A REAL LOVE MATCH ON BOTH SIDES - EVERYTHING HAS TURNED OUT SO FORTUNATELY FOR US ALL - I'M SO PROUD TO HAVE HIM FOR A SON-IN-LAW - I FEEL LIKE A BRIDE AGAIN - I'M SO HAPPY -
I DON'T KNOW WHETHER TO CONGRATULATE YOU OR MARY -
WELL - I MUST GO NOW - I'D FORGOTTEN ALL ABOUT THAT OTHER DRESS MAKER COMING -

NEW YORK CENTRAL JUMPS FIVE POINTS

Other Dividend-Paying Shares Respond to Buying Demand

OLD FAVORITES GAIN

Wall Street Not Worried Over Increase in Brokers' Loans

BY W S COUSINS
I N S Financial Editor

NEW YORK Feb 1—The forward move in the railroad stocks gained considerable momentum this morning as buying demand for the better grade of dividend paying shares piled into the market from all directions New York Central's brilliant five point run to 204 was easily the feature of the first [illegible] but new advances of one to three points were scored by Erie Chesapeake and Ohio [illegible] Marquette [illegible] and Union Pacific

With time money rates back to 7¼ per cent and call money in abundance at seven per cent [illegible] lower Wall street saw no reason for worry in the $116 000 000 increase in brokers loans for the past week The New York reserve banks [illegible] against outside lending for stock market purposes was also quietly [illegible] and the bulls proceeded quietly but confidently to mark prices higher

New gains of one to three points were recorded in a number of the old favorites in the copper and specialty list including Kennecott Copper up three at 163 DuPont new up three at 135¼ Westinghouse and Western Union up 3½ each United States Steel up two at 183¼ Anaconda Copper up two The public utility stocks which kept in seclusion during most of yesterday's active session stood well out in front today with Consolidated Gas and a half dozen of the power and [illegible] going to [illegible] highest price of the year

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S GRAIN

CHICAGO Feb 1—Grain prices reacted late in the session yesterday and the early gains were completely wiped out in the downturn Wheat ruled strong most of the session and not until the last few minutes of trading did prices fall below the previous closing points Corn reacted earlier in the session and did not show the firmness that prevailed in wheat

Commission houses sold wheat freely on all rallies and this burdened the market finally serving to discourage a number of the longs Liquidation of long wheat was a feature at the finish There was promise of good buying power early in the session but this was dissipated later

Reports of general rains in Argentina proved the undoing of the corn market and prices reacted soon after the opening Local support was given the market but the buying was not aggressive and prices gave way under the pressure of offerings

Early Buying General

Closing quotations showed net declines of 1 8@1 4c in wheat while corn was 5@[illegible] lower Oats were 1 4@3 8 lower and rye 7 8@1 lower

Demand for wheat at the outset was quite general It was stimulated by apprehension over the winter wheat crop because of severe weather over the belt and by the relative firmness of the Liverpool market Part of the buying was credited to foreign account and part to Northwestern interests The bulge [illegible] selling of wheat by commission houses which at first caused only moderate recession but later burdened the market materially

Some reluctance was shown to follow advances in prices purely on crop damage possibilities due to the early date It was generally recognized that weather conditions during the past month have been unfavorable for winter wheat but nothing definite can be determined about the crop at this time and traders still have recollections of the way winter wheat improved last year and overcame the Winter killing in soft wheat states

Liverpool wheat closed 1¼@1⅝c higher due to advices from this side and free buying by the continent Fair export trade in Canadian wheat was reported but the only interest in domestic wheat seems to be in way of occasional taking of durum Government aid in Argentina may check the inclination of shippers down there to press sales at prices below their competitors Canadian country marketings of wheat continue to run materially below the volume of a year ago Movement in our Southwest is larger than a year ago

Corn Has A Setback

Corn futures started out higher in sympathy with wheat, there being considerable buying by commission houses. Reports of general rains in Argentina stimulated local selling of volumes and prices reacted sharply. The Buenos Aires market was lower in the early cables and this was also depressing Support was given the market on the break and some of the early sellers tried to get back their corn when estimates were circulated indicating a much reduced surplus in Argentina

Oats held steady most of the session, finally giving way in sympathy with other grains Commission houses bought oats and there was covering by shorts. Early selling was of resting order type but longs sold later on Sales to go to store were 100,000 bu
